Only the rudiments of the movement are as jet visible but beneath is a well defined programme for the founding of a new political party in the bouthern status the leading sports of which shall be the business element especially the manufacturing interests of the Sou in One of the committee sind to might.

ment especially the manufacturing inkerests of the South. One of the committee sout to might.

We regard the oil Solid South as a thing of the past, it is gone forever. The certainty of the admission of two or three new republic an state strips the South of her former power in national politics. A breakup is upon us. We must took to ar ranging new lines and in doing, so we proport to make new alliances, and bring about a sethicment of the perphetring race issue.

The ingenious plan has been outlined for the oreation of a new and independent party; whose followers shall institute political wither against what is known as Bourbon rule? and press that glement until it calls the negroes to its aid to saye it from political death.

When it shall be competed to call for the negro vote in state and loca elections from that moment," said the gentleman, fair elections in the South will be secured and political disfranchisement ceases. the principal stockholders in the Brownwille woolen mills, and a man of forty woolen mills, and a man of forty woolen mills, and a man of forty years' experience in the business gave his views at length upon the subject. He explained that the business of the Brownwille woolen mills had been problable, that he had arranged to dispose of his interests there only because that placeddd not offer opportunities for enlarging the business as he desired. He wished to select some point where he could feel that the mill would be a permanent fixture and where its capacity could be enlarged from time to time as business would justify He and his associates were ready to put $50 where its capacity could be enlarged from time to time as business would justify He and his associates were ready to put $50 000 into the venture at once, and when once under way would open stock books for subscriptions from outside parties. He would build a four set woolen mill immediately and wished also to include the manufacture of worsteds. If the enterprise prospered as he believed it would be hoped within first years to employ from $00 to 400 hands. He had read offers of a subsidy from Eugent City, Albany, Pendleton and other points, but would locate here in preference if satisfactory inducements were made. The amount of subsidy he would ask would depend largely upon the cost of water power. The relative cost of the Gray McCornack sld tannery and other powers were discussed, and a committee was appointed to confer with the owners of the various powers. In

Mr Kay intends to leave in a few days for the East and for Burope, and will employ the time during his absence in visiting various mills also seeming the latest improvements in muchinery etc. The committee is confident 'that any reasonable amount saked as a subsidy can be raised and that the mill will be built here.

THE SOMBARDNENT

Shortly after dathreak on the second day after the arrival of the fleet the Haydian officers trained their guns ou the town and the hombarament commenced. Operations were begin at this early hour because a favoring tide enabled the four vessels to lie broadside to the town.

The Toussaint fired the first shot which wen whistling through the air and buried itself in the sand on the beach, just in front of the frail thatched, hambon houses of the goorer nalives. The other vessels followed suit and lived widely. It a low minutes however shots began to tear through the town demolishing the frail structures. The shombon huts succumbed easily but the stone buildings in the central and more elevated portion of the town were not so easily destroyed the heavy walls resisting for several hours.

Despite the warning they had recoved to leave the fated town many of the residents clung to their habitations. In fact it was impossible to remove many of the sick in the town within the limit allowed by Legitime. Yesterday morning another force of fifty men was raised and proceeded to Maurey s residence. The place was found entirely deserted. The whites burned the buildings on the place, together with those on the farm adjoining, and scoured the woods for the negroes, but could find no trace of them. It is impossible to find any negroes within five miles of the scene of trouble. White people from adjoining towns poured into Wahalak all dey and joined in the search, but as none of the negroes except Munrey was known they secondplished nothing. One negro was seen turking in the woods and was fired upon by a party of whites, but he instantly disappeared. It is believed that there will be more trouble it is certain that if any negroes who fired on the whites are caught, they will be stilled. The feeling, however is now against the white men who are said to have organized the negroes. Not a single negro is known to have recoived any injury. It does not appear that the whites in attempting the arrest did so under any legal anthority but ther are sustained by the entire white population of Kemper and the adjoining counters. It is necessary to prosecute these works on a consistent plan and to have the needful appropriations at regular times. Our delegation in congress should be able to bring these things about. The present congress should pass another river and harbor bill, for though the appropriations made last seation have not yet been expended, nearly two years must chapse before the next congress must chapse before the next congress and a proper statement of the seating seating the seating seating the seating seating the seating seat s can make appropriations that will be necessary work up to time as heretofore, with loss of much of the sime as nerewore, with loss of much of the money expended on unfinished work. When-ever work is interrupted for a tonsiderable period it has to begin again almost of the original beginning; but if there were no ans-pension and the work were carried seeaffly along, this waste of money and loss of time along, this waste of money and loss of time would be avoided.

There can be no reason why coal should not exist in great quantities, in the slopes and ridges of the Cascade mountains in Oregon, as well as in Weshington. It has been found in Washington because it has been

The Santiam, Clackamas and McKimzle, flowing out of the Cascade range in Gregon, into the Willamette, are streams similar to the Payallup, Nisqually, White and Green rivers that flow out of the same range into Fuget sound. The mountain country from which all these streams come is similar; it is in fact of the very same formation. Coal is very abundant on the Paget sound streams. It has been found because it has been looked for. But in the corresponding country in Oregon no adequate search has been made. However, there is now an excellent pros-pect on the Santiam river in Alim county.

about ten miles from Lebanon. William H. Watkinds is showing in Portland some fine looking samples of coal obtained from bor-ings there. The drill bas passed through a bed of coal eleven feet thick; Iving at a depth of 120 feet, and borings made in several places in the vicinity shows that the coal bed has greate extent. Tests of the coal show that the chairly is equal to that of the best found on this coast. It makes a clean and bright fracture, burns well and cokes well. Ex-Senator Grover and others are interested in it and will take massures at once to open. in it, and will take incasures at once to open the mine.

The locality is very easy of access, it is but a short distance from the narrow gauge railroad and from the Lebanon branch of the O. & C., and rail lines may be run to it without difficulty. A coal expert has visited the locality, and he says the "prospect" is a very promising one. Coal, for this region, is trend from greatest wards, and we trust that of our greatest wants, and we trust that this discovery will open the way to obtainment of the needed supply.

TAXING MORTGAGES.

There is an old saying that "none are so shind as those who won't see." This is as true of important facts as of small ones, and men who have shut their eyes to truth und conquered it by shear force of prejudice, are often as proud of that schievement as if they had accomplished some great good and mads the world their debtor. This is fremently the case where matters that affect quently the case where matters that affect the state are concerned and the interest of tax payors are at stake, and in such cases affective the fair and honest thing should be done. At this time the statutes of Oregon

PREPARING PRODUCTS FOR MARKET.

Merchants continually make a protest ignified the want of good business sense shown by producers in preparing their various satisfies formarket, and say there is often a want of housety in the manner in which products reach them. The Oracotax has often noted this fact of good judgment, not to call it by a harsher name, and it would seem as if no comment should be necessary on points so evident and unmistakable. The appearance presented has much to do with the salableness of articles, and any attempt to foist inferior goods only injures the seller.

One merchant says farmers will pack small apples in the center of it box, and the result is that the whole are unsalable. Apples are coming in abundantly, but the effort to St. Lawrence, without let of hinderice.

Good tuste often enhances values, and the preparation of things, with tastershould be a study with all produpers. If anything can be made by offer-ing articles in attractive form it should be done. In many respects the farmer can profit by expecise of good taste, and it should be cultivated and made the most of.

WATER SUPPLY.

The statement made by the sub-committee The statement upon by see our building of the water committee, and published yesterday for the information of the people of the Portland, is a statement of very gree est and value. The matter of primary importance is conveyed in the statement that measures must be taken—and they ought to be taken at once—to provide for the city a larger supply of water, and with this the question arises, how ought it to be done?

Either we must pump more water from the river or bring in water from Bull Run.

If we profer to do the former we must increase the expacity of our pumping ma-chinery and lay another large main from Palattue hill. This will cost a large amount maintenance of machinery will be increased and it is shown that already the cost of fuci would pay the interest on a bonded debt of $500,000. Our water supply must soon be doubled, and the cost of fuel therefore will soon reach a sum that would pay interest on $1,006,000. Besides, Willamette water, though that flows a long distance through an alluvial country, is not as good water as Portland could have. There is better water, and THE OREGONIAN believes that the time has come to bring it here. It thinks that true economy would forbid the expenditure of found in Washington because it has not been any more monor upon pumping machinery looked for, and because it has not been found in Oregon, for increase of supply from the Willamette river, and that the altern dive propos bringing water from Bull Run ought to be taken up at once.

It is shown very conclusively that there would be sufficient income from water rates in Portland to carry the debt of $2,000,000, which it is proposed to incur. The calculation on this point is a very careful and conservative one; it is made by men who are not accustomed to flights of imagination in mat-ters of business, and in our judgment is much below rather than at all above what the city might expect to realize. In their calculation nothing is estimated for receipts from East Portland; yet Buil Run water would certainly be supplied to a large and increasing body of constancers there. The estimate for increase in Portland is certainly within the Haits of most conservative calculation. In fact it appears to be as certain as simple arithmetic can make it that, upon an expenditure of $2,000,000, or $1,300,000 more than the sum now authorized, fixed charges and expenses of maintenance would be paid from water rates, and consequently that we may go forward with the Bull Run project. And within a very few years the increasing number of rate-payers will enable the management to reduce rates and to begin the accumulation of a fund, if desirable, for the accumulation of a fund, if desirable, for extinguishment of the debt.

Our citizens will, we think, with great unanimity, second the suggestion of the sub-committee that the legislature be requested to authorize the issue of additional bonds, to the extent of $1,300,000, for the purpose of laying a pipe line from Buil Run to the city. It is time to realize that Portland must take every necessary step to keep up with the de-mands of modern progress. Our citizens are doing a great deal; they must do a great deal doing a great cear; they must on great cear, more. This question of water supply is one that presses and must have immediate attention. We must have more water. Let us have it from Bull Run, and not depend further on temporary makeshifts, which, in the long run seldom conduce to economy and never give satisfaction.

The same methods were invoked Brifs50 and in 1884, with complete success at the South, and they have been employed this year, and fulling to elect Cleveland have nevertheless manufactured for him a democrat phrasticy in the popular vote. BEACONSFIELD A MOME RULER.

Lord Beaconsfloic, the greatest tory statesman that England has known since 1846, the life-long an agonist of Gladstone in all mat-ters of foreign and most matters of domestic policy, was in theory as earnest a believer in the policy of hothe rule for Ireland as his great rival Gladstone. Singlishmer, who couldne to mourn Beaconshiple as a great tory statesman, and wear primiroses in their button hole on the universary of his death, will be surprised to learn on the authority of Edwards Pierrepont, ex-United States min-lister to the court of St. James, that in a conversation held 22d day of Becember, 1877, with Lord Fenconshibt on the Irish question, that great man declured himself a home ruler. Besconshell remarked that the government of Ireland was likely to cause trouble before long and that the agitation of the question might be left in America; that Ireland demanded a voice in the manageof her local affairs, and a redress of many grievances would have to be considered. Mr. Pierrepont asked bim if he had any plan for the better government of Ireland. Beaconsfield answered:

heid answered:
No perfected plan, but a general idea that if he had to deal with the situation he should propose to place lrelaud in a similar relation to the imperial government that New York holds rewards perfai government that New York holds rewards the indepal government—differing in meany partic-ulars, on account of the different conditions—but in the main, similar. The fear that many express, lest in that case lectand would become independ-ent. I consider groundiess—your war has, sattled that; even soveral great states combined could not maintain a Copischricoy independent of the Union. Cromwell undertoots to govess frelanc in the "blood and from" way; but Iniled.

Frequied, but he brought peace, did he not?

Howard: Yos, the peace of death. The rule of Charles the First was before. The Irish are susceptible to highouse; each full of sentiment—not lugical—and anonablastic of the means necessary to gain desired ends; but enally governed if dealt with in the right way.

The great difficulty about the adoption of any plan for the home government of Iceland is that plen for the home government of Ireland is that in the public ear without protest that she is Uniter and the other Protestant portions of the island fear that if Ireland were made a suatification. island fear that if Issland were made a st New York her legislation would be oppressive to the Protestants.

Mr. Pierrepont replied, "Why not divide freland as we divided Virginia, by making Ulster and Leinster one state, and Munster and Connaught another. Each state being and Connaught another. Each state being then absolutely independent of the other, and both subject to the imperial power,—as in the United States,—no oppressive legisla-flem of the kind feared would be possible." Beaconsiled replied that the suggestion was worthy of consideration, and that perhaps he might live to give its author credit for it; but he died the 19th of April, 1881, just when the discussion of the Irish question was beme orscussion or the frish question was be-ginning to assume large proportions under the government of Gladstone. Had Bea-consfield lived be might have done to Glad-stone what he did to the liberals years before on the question of the enlargement of the suffrage, v z : stolen his thunder by anticiputing him as a reformer. In 1881 Glad-stone was not ready for the home rule that Beaconsfield held in his mind's eye as early as 1877. While the tories, from their distrust of Gladstone, would not follow him they might have been personded to home rule by so powerful and trusted a leader as Banconsso powerful and trusted a lettler as Education field. In 1897 Distraell cut the ground from under Gladstone's feet when the liberals were moving for entarged suffrage by holdly introducing a more radical bill than the radicals themselves favored, and he carried radicals themselves favored, and he carried his party with him. He repeated the tacties he described when he once said that "Peel cought the whigs in bathing and walked away with their clothes." In 1887 Disraeli was withly described as having "helped turn the whigs out of their clothes in order that he might get into their garments." So deft and audacions a political genius might have stolen Gladstone's thunder in 1881, had he lived, by stepping beyond Gadstene and winning over Paraell to the tories by offering home rule, which Gladstone was not ready for in 1881.

It is interesting to consider how came it

It is interesting to consider how came it that Beaconsfield, the great tory leader and rivat of Gladstone, should have become a convert in theory to home rule for Ireland convert in theory to home rule for treiund in December, 1877, Jong before Gladstone consented to it. The explanation lies in the fact that while Beaconstield was nominally a tory, he was never a tory of aristocratic leanings or prejudices. like Salisbury. Beaconstield was an intensely patrotic Englishman and had a practical gantus for government, which threw him out of sympathy with men of oratorical force and skill an what he would have termed "seutimental politics," and therefore he was usually opposed to understand how pressing is a successor to the speedy appointment of a successor to Judge Boyle. Whether or not the prevident will be influenced by the fact that Judge Burke is prejessionally connected with the greater part of the important litigation which has been instituted in that district, and would in consequence, be unable to give more than partial relief, is hard to tell. Nevertheless, general satisfaction would be expressed if Judge Burke should be appointed. The Latest Posture of the Struggle-The Territorial Problem and Its Pensible Effect on Washington-Judge Burke's Candidacy.

(Special Correspondence of The Grecoutsan I TACOMA Dec 17—Several 4 rominent Spo-kane Falls men, while waiting for a steamer rane Fails men, while waiting for a steamer here to-day, gave an interesting gossip about the political situation that is worth repeat-ing. It confirms what has already been pub-lished in The Oregonius relative to the in tished in The Oregoviar relative to the in-terest being taken by the great men in this territory to secure the ample and most po-tent ear of the next administration. It ap-pears that it is altogether probable there will be several new Richmond's in the field and that they will be very vigorous realities in deed instead of the visions of the disordered deed instead of the visions at the prime a good brain of a Richard. It may surprise a good many well informed people to learn that a council of the East and West has been held. many well into their position of the seed and that not at all remote expressions of in terest and contidence have been uttered by men who stand very close to Mr Harrison II Mr John S Clarkson the successful corpulent, good natured and very much triked about secretary of the national republic in committee, is chosen by President Harrison secretary of the unterior it is diogether probable that some very lively present hipports on very lively present hipports of some very lively leftons will resp fruit son Indeed there is more than a possibility that something in the shape of black and white could be shown confirmatory of this assertion Probably Mr I. S. I. Hunt could give some particulars about this new turn in affairs. There is no question that in view of the almost certain admission of Washington to the Union that President Harrison and his advisers, will favor selecting all otherals, to be appointed by him from within the ter his idvisers, will havor scheding in outcome, to be appointed by him from within the territory, as this policy will do much to aid in the organization of the republican parts. If Mr Clarkson is given the portfolio of the interior, and peradventure. Washington should not be formally erected into a state until next winter then Mr Clarkson will have a great deal to say about a great many officers who bow have a pull at the public purse. And Mr Clarkson would not unlikely listen with much condidence to my suggestion made by Mr L. S. J. Hinth and somebody in Spokane I alls, who for the present will not be named the relations between Mr Hunt and the present secretary of the territory are scarcely such as to justify the belief that a change will not occur in that office. That is, indeed, the most luscious plum in territorial politics and the man who will fill that office will be able to do much to add in the management of political affairs Striveyor-General Brecknings will probably be allowed to stay his time out and if he is, there are not a few republicans who will not be displessed. Still be may have to walk the plank in the interests of the grand old party wishes, if he should happen to be the man if, and there are really some it's in the case—if Senator Allison should be looked upon by President Harrison as an agreeable except from the conflict going on in New York over the treasury department, then Mr Clarkson will not be in the interior department, and some nicely laid plans in in the arterior department, and some nicely laid plans in in the president of the interior and President Harrison, tog, and he can do much in an overel to further the publical hours of some

Still Mr Clarkson standeretty close to Senntor Allivon and President Harrison, too, and he can do much in any owner to furthlist the political lopes of some of the ambitious great men of this territory.

The man who bases his calculations on the idea that the Northern Penfic Railrond company will have nothing to say about the into senators to be elected in Washington will find himself in a position water low it have to readjust his plans.

There is a good deal of tilk going the rounds to the effect that Washington may as well give up all hope or ever securing the annexation of Northern Idaho. In your issue of the lath that is a suggestion from a lawyer that as the effect of the recent decision of the supreme court in the College case is simply to say that admitting the allegations of the bill to be frue the cou-plaint does state a cause of aur and sends the case back to the court below for further the case bick to the court below for further proceedings. That comment on the opinion seems to be very questionable. It is the diction given to sustain the decision that has elected the comments of The Oraconian and other newspapers. If the diction of Judge Phayer is correct then no answer the appliants can file would be of any value for if the circuit court should feel bound by the opinion of the supreme court it would probably strike out any answer that could be lied, and for all practical purposes the supreme court might as well have kicked the appellants out of court and rendered a decree in layor of the M. OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

Value to the Farmer of a Good Business Reputation.

The Barm of Too Close Grazing-Why Breeding Sows Fatten-Caring Meats-Rendering Lard-Caring Scratches

A good business reputation is as valuable for the farmer as one engaged in any other kind of business and this depends wholly changes in the weather. The children of soratches are expossive to smid and with the believed that formers home and subject to this disease than others as subject to this disease than others as they are compelled to wade through his ing they are pretty, since to some the ing they are pretty, since to some the distance of the disease it it may be termed such as they disease it it may be termed such as the control of the horse in the distance of the horse in the distance of the horse is a pretty and the control of the horse in the distance of the horse in the horse in the distance of the horse in the horse in the distance of the horse in the horse at vining hose between profit and to in cathle rating. One other that has come under the observation of the writer the past sea on is the detriment to the pastiges by cose grazing. In the first place it keeps the grees rocks but and in the dry but some mer sur the roots are burned up, that is good grees while all kinds of weeds are not caten by cattle, and therefore have all the better channe to grow. This last has been the case on a piece of commons in this reighborhood the last summer, for on the same which contains about three tundred series of rough pasture land hundreds of cattle have been grazing until the ground got entirely bare for some time in the pring and when the rain set in in June all kinds of weeds grew up luxuriantly covering the ground and choking down all kinds of grass for the rest of the summer. This was also the case with otherwise good pastures that were fed too close while in pastures where no more cattle were feeding than had plenty of grass, the weeds did not the STIOK TO 1T

STICK TO 1T

A farmer cannot justly abandon in im-portant part of his routine simply because it portant part of his routine simply because it happens not to pay satisfactorily at the present time. He is enlisted in a war in which defeats are mixed with victories, and if on the whole, progress is made, he should be satisfied. A ship owner may find the carrying business so poor that he has to lay up his ships. He does not burn them or sell them at auction for what they will bring to break up and yet it costs him money to keep and care for them. So the farmer, floding his flock of sheep or the growth of wheat or the rearing of cattle not satisfactorily profitable, cannot abandon these staple pursuits and sacrices his stock for next to nothing, in a let, as it were, and turn his hand to some sacrines his stock for qext to nothing, in a set, as it were, and turn his hand to some other products of which he has little or no experience without making a costly mistale. And well thousands do this very thing. And many of the present complaints are due to his ertor in judgment. The best policy for he turner is to tut out his line of business in seeins most suitable whether it be the durn grasing sheep ritising grain growing or at a other, and stack to it through good at d bud and always doing the best with it.—

WHY BREEDING BOWS FATTEN

Most: triners have tropble in Leeping breed ne s was in proper breeding condition. This is a potential true of the improved breeds that have been for generations trained to otten easily and mature early. It is for this reason that a cross of full bred male on a cases that a cross of full bred male on a coar eshoned large bodied sow gives better progesty for general purposes than athat which is thoroughbied. The native sow does not fatten so casule gives more at d better milk and produces a stronger later of healthst pigs besides heing less likely to be feven hand kill or eat them. No matter what the breed however as soot as a sow is with pig-she begins generally to live on fat. This is partly due to the increased rations she will eat. She needs more to upply the increased demand on her for the growing nature. Most of our hog growers feed too much corn to breeding sows. It is deficient in bone material and the pigs grown on it will be scrawing and weak while the sow herself on such food will ripidly fatten hans farmers have noticed this fact without thinking of the reason. The sow has an enormous appetite for food while the kind that is given her hands an excess of fatforming material does not supply the project alma: I for the sow's young. This call on the sca for wha she cannot give is which take fat some little on the fat alone that does this but rather the deficiency of other material which the food given does not supply. There is no better food for broeding sows.

It is not the fat alone that does this but rather the deticency of other material which the food given does not supply. There, is no better food for broeding sows that it is minuted until with wheat brain. There is very note far uncertainty yet such is the appetite of a breeding sow that she will fatten rapidly if given all she can eat of either of these But the pigs thus a coursined before high will be strong and vigorous and what if the sow has will not be it my danger of micking her aervous and feve the If a supply of hert and mangled nou zells have been provided they will be worth more than grain to feed to breeding own is a cooling diet for the fail to dian on too much fat. No other kind of root is eaten by pigs, of any igs so greedly as are beets and mangle. As a part of the supply even for fattening minimits they are almost undersemble. The exclusive grain feeding of lattening hogs is very bad for their digestion and if the pig is made sick while preparing for the bottoner it is hardly to be wondered it that his pork will give dispepsia to those who extra hardly to WHEAT-The market is dull and inactive. Warshousemen are strong in their ideas, an at the present rate for vessels shippers are at the present rate for vessels shippers are unable to do any business. Eastern mail dates report that there is little doubt as to the true condition of things in the North-west. Farmers' deliveries of spring wheat see exceedingly light. Farmers reserves are generally small; country elevator stocks are being reduced rather than increased, and, however much demoralization, there may be in the market for off grade stuff, millers con in the market for on grace state, inters cointen to compete sharply for good milling wheat that comes forward. The side tracked may at Minneapolis are falling off in numbers, and arrivals, too, are showing a decrease. The basis for the improvement in the tone of foreign markets seems to be a coming support of good milling wheat, both growing scarcity of good milling wheat, both in the continent and in Great Britain.

FREIGHTS—The situation is unchanged.

residing id New York, in conversation with a number of friends the other evening said: "Did you know that two-thirds of all the deaths in the City of New York are from pneumonia or consumption? Alnel such is the case. What causes it? Careleseness. I copie have a cough in the morning short breathing, and raise a little phlegm. Pshaw, they say, that is nothing. It is everything. It is the first step toward death. Next there is a tightness of the chest, and quickened pulse. Taen chilliums at evening, with a slight feverishness, especially in the hands and fact. Then perspiration during the night, and sometimes a cough. Then ioss of fiesh. Then—"

The listeners were a mazed, but the doctor continued:

"My friends, these are the sure signs of coming consumption. What can be done? Halt! Take prompt measures. Save your sell before it is too late. Care, and the right remedy, will do it. But it must be the right remedy. I know of but one that is certain. It is Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. In several instances, after I have tried my utmost to give even relief, I have prescribed Dr. Acker's English Remedy, and it has soud, almost like a miracle, not only relieving but permanently curing every one of the patients. I endorse the preparation as one of the most valuable additions to the practice of medicine?"

How many despairing sufferers have prayed for something "hat would save them. How many anxious friends, seeing their loved ones pass slow y away, would have given even their lives to save the one so dear. To all such the high experience above given comes as a warning and a Godsend.

suspense, they came into court of the prisoners were ordered to stand up. The court complied with their request, and the prisoners were ordered to stand up. The court told them there was no doubt, on their own testimony, that they had been guilty of interfering with the deputy marshal in the diacharge of his duties, which obstruction had resulted in the escape of the prisoner. Their claim that the marshal had nortight to arrest the man was absurd and could not be maintained; it was not for them to question it. The marshal had a right to make arrests on probable cause, and if they or any one else had a right to say there was not probable cause and interfere, there would be an end of law and order, and such masters would be determined by a mob and a street light.

The maximum punishment provided by the statute was a yeary severe one. $5000 fine and the years in the pentientiary,—and the minimum, anything less which the court might finith proper. This wide range of punishment was doubtless intended by congress to apportion the punishment according to the magnitude and gravity of the crime, which might be robbery or stuffing of a bailot box forging a taily sheet or many other grave crimes. This offense is not, comparatively, a very enormous one, but rather a minimum one and not premeditated, and probably, as far as Jordan was concerned, was based on the impression that as a sheriff he had, a right; to interfere. The principal thing to be served by the case was the yield-cation of the law, which was done by the wardlet of the jury, and it would have been a mistortune if there had been any other ardict.

mistoriume if there had been any other vendict.

The court continued: "I told the jury that if they found a vendict of guilty I would bake their suggestion as to the purishment, but they were disable to agree on this point. I was furnished by one of the jurors with the markings of the jury, which ranged from a fine of $100 to $500, and averaged $200. I therefore sentenced each of you to pay a fine of $200 and the costs of this case, which will smount to about $100 between you, and to stand committed to the jail of this county till the seme-is paid and you are discharged according to law."

ANOTHER WATCH ROSEER.

Mr. Googe Baker of Washington county sat had his case very promptly and thoroughly attended to. Waiving examination in the police courty external y afternoon, held in $600' naturnished bail, the grand jury brought in a true bill against him shortly after, and he was arraigned in court. He pleaded guilty, and will be sentenced this morning.

The history of Baker's case is quite interesting, and shows how easy it is for a guilty man to convict himself by a desire to escape man to convict himself by a desire to escape from justice.

A day or two since Thomas Beagle, a Washington county farmer, reported the loss of two watches at the police station, and stated that he suspected one George Baker, ongs of his farm hands, of having stolen them. Baker hid been working for him for the man as he was a faithful worker. On the man as he was a faithful worker. On Stinday Mr. Bengle and his wife went on a risk to a neighbor, leaving Baker in charge of the place. Mrs. Bengle hid the gold watch in the bedroom and the silver one smoong the clothing in a bureau drawer. But Baker, wao is an old hand at the husiness, having sarred a term in the penitentiary for theft, found both watches and vamosed with them before his employer's return.

Mr. Beagle followed him to this city and found him in a saloon and caused his arrest. Officer Barry, after valuly trying to get a confession out of Baker, oulled Mr. Beagle in and said to him: "Now, you don't want to prosecute this mu. If he tells where the watches crip he found?"

Wealth of the same of the same in the tells where the watches respired: "Of course not; I only want my property."

This induced Baker to make a full confession of the same in the still confession.

This induced Baker to make a full confes-ption and Heartis give this property.

He had sold the watches in different pawn shops, one for $12 and the other for $2. Speak, ing of the affair to a reporter, Officer Barry sympathetically cremarked, with his star-board eye shrewdly screwed up, "I don't think Baker ought to got more than two or three years for being accommodating."

The closing seeme'in the notorious XXX saloon burglary was enacted yesterday by the grand jury in discharging Wesley Pope. His confederates, Lowe and Stark, are airsady saving on their three year terms in the pentiantiary. When the three were arrested, Pope "squaded" at first fire, and turned state's endence. He can now devote himself to Inture uses of the hatchet and the machinist's rule, it is to be lioped in more commendable directions.

DID THE JULY RER?

It seems to have been a very lucky day research to have been a very lucky day research to fave been a very lucky day research to fave lucy day research to fave lucy day research to fave the value of the gold watch stolen by him at $35, which makes his offence petry larcony. The jury seems to have thought that that sum; being the dividing line would fix the offence as graind larcony. Two at least said as much.

After laying in juli some time, McClevelind, a bright young mulatto in tieted for stailing a gold watch from W. J. Thornburg, was yesterday morning brought to trial before Judge Stearns.

The main prosecuting witness identified the watch as being his property, and that it was stolen from him on the first of October, 1838, in his room in Shamekawa. He research the watch was a meant excellent substant for biasself, and the held other good instainant stations that he had been conditionable for biasself, and the held other good instainant stations that he great difficulty. John Roriohs went to Salem yesterday, in charge of the sherift, bound for the asylum, having been adjudged of idiocy by the county court, on complaint of C. C. Redmap.

The complaint sets forth that the youth, who is 17 years of age, by his utter inability to support himself, and his mandth ways, has become a public autisance, being a source of sport to children and a ground of much complaint from householders. His nother's dissolute habits, it is further alleged, prevent him from finding a home with her, and maternal inebriety renders his lot doubly lumbappy. Her name is given as Mrs. Mary Fursiand.

The jury after discussing the merits of the case for several hours, returned a verdict-finding the defendants guilty of unlawful holding of the property.

JOINED IN WEDLOCK. Justice Tuttle yesterday joined with the holy bonds of matrimony Charles Tabor and Celina Daggert, and John G. Saxe and Mary CHINAMAN ASSAULTS TWO LITTLE GIRLS.

A Dhinaman answering to the name of Ah Look was arrangined in the police court yes-terday afternoon on two charges of assault.

Look was arraigned in the police court yesterday afternoon on two charges of assault and finitery.

W. J. Shyder swore out the complaints for the victims of the assault—his little girl Eulalia, aged 10 years; and Minnis Doran, another young miss of 14 summers.

The little girls were placed on the witness stand and told their story in a straightforward, manner. They were engaged in washing dishes in the house of Mr. Snyder on West Park, between C and D streets, Monday afternoon, when the Chinaman entered. He walked shout through the house, visiting every room in succession, both up stairs and down, and finally located himself at the dining-room table, where some of the eatables from the dinner tible were still standing. He immediately began to help himself without usking either permission or a blessing. The little girls kept on with their work without paying any attention to his Mongolianship, but when he asked them for some clean dishes they refused him. This infuriated the heathen Chinee, for he was determined to dine either in style or not at all. He got the dishes himself and as a punishment for insubordination he struck each of the girls above across the shoulder. Having finished his repast he took his leave.

Soon after that Mr. Snyder returned to his home and was told of what had occurred. Ah Lock, too, returned and was at once pointed out by the girls. Belog asked what he wanted he repiled that he wished to see the little girls. As he could give no reasonable account of his doings Mr. Snyder marched him to the police station, where he was arrested.

Ah Lock, with language more forelife than elegant, denied having struck the girls. He stated that he had been employed at the house to do work at the rute of 10 cents as hour. He worked to the extent of 25 cents, of which amount he had received but 20 cents. In entering the house he had no cruminal intent, but was merely endeavoring to get his nickel's worth in some way.

On complaint of J. C. McCormick two young ladies—Minnie and Myrtle Miller—were yesterday afternoon brought into the poline court to answer to a charge of larceny of $63 20. When arraigned, both young ladies indignantly pleaded not guilty, and asked for an immediate examination. The prosecuting witness was not prepared, and desired time to procure other witnesses. McCormick, who lives at the extreme end of a plank in the street is loose, and we unto those who step upon it. Hundreds have had their clothing solied to the waist by the water which would solash up as a person laid foot upon that treacherous plank, and thus is only an exceptional case of bad crosswalks. The sidewalks in places are on a pur with the above, only being minuse the bath of dirty water. The moment breaks of the kind are found immediate steps should be taken to correct the evil. Strangers would carry away better reports about our streets and sidewalks were they what they should be. The New Hotel.—Work is gotog ahead WHO TOOK THE MONEY? were yesterday afternoon brought into the police court to answer to a charge of larceny of $53.20. When arraigned, both young ladies indignantly pleaded not guilty, and usked for an immediate examination. The prosecuting witness was not prepared, and desired time to procure other witnesses. McCormiok, who lives at the extreme end of Twenty-first street, near the old Villard hotel, alteges that the money was stolen from a trunk in his house on Sunday last. The young ladies emphatically state that then are innocent of the charge, and are at loss to know why the theft. If any was continuited, should be fastened upon them. One of the girls, Minnie, has had some trouble with one of Mr. McCormick's boys, and she thinks that this charge is perhaps brought with no other motive than spite and malice. The case will be given a hearing in the police court this afternoon.

Why They Complain.—The block on C street between Tenth and Eleventh, adjoining the North school, concerning the improvement of which complaint was made by the school board, is not being improved by any of the macadamizing and paving companies. Mr. James Frainey took the contract for this work, and as he has no rock crusher the companies who have crushers, was obliged to have the rock for this work broken by hand, and instead of rock screenings to dress up the street with he used gravel. When the roller was put on the street settled in places, and hence the companies who have a monopoly of this work will not feel sad if the work should not be accepted by the street commissioner. They claim that after Mr. Frainey had taken the contract be offered to sell it to the combination for $30, but they refused to take the joh on the ground that if they bonght him off conce they would have to keep on doing it.

She is now at the narrow gauge wharf, where she is taking on eargo of flour for China. Experimental shipments of hay, bran and fancy heavy milling oats will also be sent this trip by Mr. Duban. The only apple shipment will be a small order of Rambos. This fruit is not now in good condition to ship so far, with the exception of the American Pippin, which is too hard. No accounts of sales have yet been received from the summer's China exports, but enough is known to encourage future shipping of this kind. The market however, is too limited for any material increase in the volume of business.

Of the 60° piles necessary, 140 are driven and the work is going ahead at the rate of twenty per day. The contractor, Mr. Bridges, will begin the work of sawing off and carping the piles the latter part of this week and will follow up the pile driver, capping and laying joists and making ready for putting up the wals and roof of the building. The work of filling Couch lake is progressing somewhat slowly, the contractor, Mr. P. O'Neil, being hindered on account of the steam shovel not working so well as could be wished. Malirkey, corner Fourth and Morrison, has just received a sample shipment of Eastern dressed chickens and turkeys, which, aldressed chickens and turkeys, which, although we regret to say it, are much superior to the ordinary home article. Being comfed, the mest is very fat and solid, and for flavor cannot be equaled. This sample shipment will give all lovers of a choice article an idea of what they may expect for their Christmas dinner, as the Christmas supply will arrive here next. Saturday or Sunday. For those that prefer the nome article Malarkey will have a thousand fine birds from Southern Oregon. Call around and leave your orders early, as the stock will not last long.

ROYAL BANNS

ABSOLUTELY PURE

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never falls to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscults, muffins, cake, etc., raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported :

"The Royal Baking Powcer is absolutel" pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Roya Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.
